Volume XXX. Number 11. LOUISA, LAWRENCE COUNTY, KENTUCKY, NOVEMBER 13, 1914. M. F. CONLEY, Publisher.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE HERE NEXT WEEK

Monday and Tuesday the Date for Important Gathering of Farmers at Louisa.

It is ardently desired by every friend of the agricultural welfare of Lawrence county that the Farmers' Institute, announced to be held at the court house on Monday and Tuesday next shall be well attended. Commissioner of Agriculture Newman has secured a splendid corps of lecturers and demonstrators for this meeting, and to neglect this fine opportunity of hearing and learning much of great advantage to them is something the farmers should not do. Reasons for attending such meetings as the one next week will certainly be many and strong. They appeal especially to the young farmers of the county. Many of this class see that farming as some conduct it does not pay for itself, that the game is hardly worth the powder, that there is no substantial return for the expenditure of so much back-breaking toil. The fault lies not with the man himself, but with his methods. There are better, easier methods. Come to the Institute and learn them.

Notice is given here to the members of the Boys' Corn Clubs to select ten ears of the best corn they have raised and have it at the Institute by Tuesday for judging. School teachers are asked to call the attention of the boys to this notice and to measure the ground on which the corn was raised. People who have been asking the County Agent questions all summer are especially invited to attend the Institute and hear them answered at length.

THE PRESENCE OF LADIES DESIRED AT THE INSTITUTE.

Women who desire to learn more than they already know about domestic science in all its departments should not fail to attend the Farmers' Institute to be held at the court house next Monday and Tuesday. Recognizing the growing importance of improving the work of the household in all its departments the Commissioner of Agriculture has added to his staff of lecturers Miss Mary Sweeney, a lady who knows much of the household, including the kitchen and the pantry. She will be here as a lecturer with next week's Institute and do much and way much to interest our housekeepers.

TWO GAME WARDENS FOR EVERY COUNTY.

Frankfort, Ky.—Every county in Kentucky will be patrolled by two game wardens, acting directly under instructions from the Game and Fish Commission, from November 8 until January 1, when the game season will close. The season will open November 15. These wardens will go horseback or on bicycles and their visitations will be without warning. Instructions was to the character of their duties and the way they are to perform them are explicit.

Market hunters and those who hunt out of season or without a license are the particular objects of this surveillance. Sunday violators and trespassers must be handled by the local authorities, and wardens are instructed to inform landowners who ask them to arrest such violators that they should go to their county authorities.

Game birds are plentiful this fall, and if the hunters co-operate with the department the sport will be unusually good.

FREE LIVE STOCK EXCHANGE.

There is now maintained at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station a live stock exchange which acts as a medium between prospective buyers and sellers. No responsibility is assumed by the exchange but they put into communication those having stock to sell and those wishing to buy, leaving them to make their own trade. By liberal use of this exchange the farmers of Kentucky can make it a great convenience. No fees are charged. Address: T. R. BRYANT, Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky.

A PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Fannin, on Second street, a pretty wedding was solemnized, when they gave in marriage their eldest daughter, Miss Edna, to Mr. Robert Cain, of Louisa. Rev. Burns Conley officiating. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal couple left for Louisa, and on Wednesday morning left for a short honeymoon to Cincinnati and other points East.

The bride is sweet and lovable and one of our most popular young ladies. The groom has a position with the C. & O. railway.—Paintsville Herald.

NEW BANK ORGANIZES.

The board of directors of the Kitchen Savings & Trust Company, a new banking house which has been organized in Ashland, met and elected officers. James H. Kitchen, the well known eastern Kentucky lumber man, was named president, Dr. G. W. Moore, vice-president, Wade H. Clay, cashier. The bank will open for business January 1, according to the announcement of its directors. The capital stock of $10,000 has been paid in.

DEATH OF JOHN QUEEN, AGED, RESPECTED CITIZEN.

Mr. John Queen, one of the best known citizens of this county, Saturday morning last died at his late home near Glenwood, East Fork, of the infirmity induced by advanced age. He was buried near his late residence on Sunday in the presence of a large throng of relatives and friends.

The deceased was widely connected by blood and marriage, and many of these, of this and adjacent counties, gathered to pay a final tribute of love and respect for the kinsman and friend who had stood so high in the esteem and regard of the many who knew him. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. D. Woods, of Boyd county, who spoke well and truthfully of the aged friend who had gone to reap the reward of a well-spent, Christian life.

Mr. Queen, who, because of the fact that some years ago, before he moved to his last earthly home had lived on the Ryefield branch of East Fork, was known as "Ryefield" John, to distinguish him from the many other John Queens, is survived by his aged widow, six sons and two daughters, and many relatives. Mr. Will Queen, of Louisa, is a nephew.

Of John Queen all who knew him unite in saying that he was one of the best men in Lawrence county. In all the relations of life, as citizen, man, neighbor, husband, father and friend, he was unexcelled, and the places that shall know him no more forever will long and regretfully mourn for "Uncle John."

GARTIN & CARTER'S NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

This is our second request to persons owing accounts at our store. We regret to be compelled to urge payment, but the death of Mr. Carter makes it imperative to do so. We hope our friends will appreciate the necessity of the occasion and make as prompt settlement as possible. GARTIN & CARTER, 21 Louisa, Ky.

Judge John F. Hager Urged for Governor

Friends Say Ashland Man Would Add Strength To Democratic Ticket.

The Lexington Herald says: Judge John F. Hager, of Ashland, one of the most popular Democrats and one of the ablest men in Eastern Kentucky, is being urged by friends to announce himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. It became known in Lexington yesterday.

Judge Hager, his friends say, would add immense strength to the ticket not only in the Big Sandy Valley, where he is well known to thousands of the voters, but in the mountain section, where the coal development has such proportions as to indicate the bringing to Kentucky of millions of dollars as a result of shipments to other states. His Democracy is of the brand that has never been questioned and his ability and popularity with all classes of citizens would make his candidacy, if he consented to run, worth thousands of voters in all sections of eastern Kentucky.

THE CHURCHES.

All the Louisa churches appropriately observed Temperance Day last Sunday.

At night District Superintendent Plummer preached at the M. E. Church. He will hold his first quarterly meeting here Saturday and Sunday week, Nov. 21 and 22.

The Rev. Olin Hamilton, pastor of the Baptist Church, Monday went to Somerset to attend the General Association of Kentucky Baptists. He will return Saturday. Sunday he will begin the protracted meeting heretofore announced and will be continued for some time. On Tuesday night the Rev. Mr. Holcomb, formerly an evangelist but now the pastor of a Baptist church in North Carolina, will preach and continue the services. Mr. Holcomb was here two or three years ago and held a revival meeting in this church with much success. He is a fine preacher, eloquent and effective.

SHE IS TEN YEARS OLD.

Dorothy, the pretty black-eyed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Spencer, was ten years old last Sunday, and on the next day, November 9th, she celebrated the completion of the first decade of years which have passed over her young head by giving a party. The lassie had sent out many invitations, and from 4:30 to 6:30 p. m. her home was full of her youthful friends, forty-six in number, all full of fun and frolic. Later they were filled with more substantial things, dainty and delicious. The evening was concluded by a visit to the picture show.

CARTER MAN PARDONED.

John Tackett, of Carter county, sent to the penitentiary in 1910 for manslaughter, was pardoned by Gov. McCreary. Tackett has been out on parole since 1912.

A FLOYD COUNTY TRAGEDY.

On Saturday last, near Woods, Floyd county, Lee Hunt, while under the influence of liquor, stabbed his wife and then shot himself. There is thought to be some chance for Mrs. Hunt's recovery but the uxoricide and suicide lived only a few hours.

LIVE STOCK SALES AGAIN NEXT MONDAY

Second of the County Court Day Sales on the 16th.

On next Monday, Nov. 16th, the second public sale of live stock will take place at Louisa, this being county court day.

As before announced in these columns, it is the intention of Mr. W. E. Queen and other public spirited citizens to make this a permanent affair, occurring every county court day. The first sale last month was a decided success under all the circumstances, and the second will no doubt be also an interesting event. On account of the quarantines in various States against the movement of cattle because of the epidemic of the fatal foot and mouth disease the markets are somewhat demoralized, but all are hoping that it will not last long.

Remember the sales here next Monday, and let both buyers and sellers attend.

The Ninth District Association is the leading Congressional District Educational Association in Kentucky, both as to organization and attendance. All of the other District Associations in Kentucky are growing rapidly and if we are to maintain our position of leadership, we must make this year's meeting at Mt. The Association will go into session Thursday evening Nov. 19, and continue until noon Saturday. The railroads have granted reduced rates from all points in the District. The rate over the C. & O., for individual round-trip fare, will be 2 cents per mile over the L. & N., 2 cents per mile plus 25 cents. Tickets will be on sale the 15th, 19th and 20th, bearing final return limit Monday, November 23rd. There will be ample hotel lodging-house and private home accommodations in Mt. Sterling. Sterling, to go immediately to the City School building, where information will be given, regarding lodging and board. Committees on entertainment will be on hand to give all the assistance possible.

Every teacher and trustee in the Ninth district should become a member of the Association and attend the meeting at Mt. Sterling. The Association needs every teacher and trustee and every teacher and trustee needs the Association. The Kentucky Educational Association is the clearing-house of the educational interests of our State. The Congressional District Association is a family-gathering in which problems pertaining to every individual teacher and trustee are discussed. The program has been prepared wholly to this end.

A full program for the entire session of three days, replete with the best things possible pertaining to educational matters has been published, and will be presented by educators, not of State renown only, but national celebrity. You cannot afford to miss this meeting.

WILEY SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY.

Zer Wiley, who was captured some weeks ago near Paintsville after an all night chase through the woods, was sentenced by the Johnson County Court to the penitentiary from two to five years for an attempt to assault on Miss Piny Johnson, a cousin of young Hatfield.

Wiley also received a term in the penitentiary several years ago for voting twice.

LOUISA PLEASE TAKE NOTICE.

Mrs. James A. Leach, chairman of the Civics Committee, Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, requests all cities, towns and villages to follow the lead of Louisville in designating Friday, and Saturday, November 20 and 21, as "clean-up days." Her action is taken at the request of Gov. McCreary. Leaves, ashes, paper, tin cans and all other waste and litter will be gathered up on "clean-up day." Where there are no street-cleaning departments duty wagons must be provided by those interested in the movement. Mrs. Leach says she will furnish information to anyone who addresses her at her home, 1245 First street, Louisville.

ANOTHER GOOD GAS WELL ON CHEROKEE.

Dr. M. G. Watson, Judge Holt and associates have drilled in another good gas well near Cherokee, this county. It is estimated to be good for 1,250,000 cubic feet per day, with 700 pounds rock pressure.

WORKMAN DROWNS IN FLOODED VAULT.

After ten hours of effort workmen succeeded in bringing to the surface the body of Silas Payne, aged 48 years, who was drowned in a vault in Kenova Wednesday morning. Payne, with his father and brother, was engaged in digging a cesspool which proved to be too close to the old vault, the result being that the wall broke through and the contents of the old well flooded the new one, drowning the workman.

A large force of men went to work at once in the effort to recover the body. After several hours the head and shoulders were uncovered but before the corpse could be extricated there was a second cave-in which buried it deeper than ever.

It was 6:30 before the remains were finally removed from the vault and taken to the city hall where they were prepared for burial before being removed to Brownstown where Payne's home had been.

The dead man left a wife and three sons.

GAS WELLS TO BE DRILLED IN ESTILL COUNTY SOON.

C. R. Dulin and Geo. B. Williams, who are owners of the town franchise for gas, and who have a large section on the south side of the river, leased for gas and oil, will sink a well on the farm of Mr. Williams for gas. Mr. Dulin, who has the reputation of being an authority on the subject, says that there are excellent surface indications of an abundance of gas in this locality. They have already sufficient supply from their wells on Cow creek to supply the town, and the same can be piped into the city without a great deal of expense, but of course a few good wells just across the river from town would reduce the expense of piping to an insignificant sum. The drilling will begin as soon as the machinery can be removed to the lease which will be perhaps two weeks from this date.—Estill Tribune.

The Missionary Institute for Ashland District

Large Attendance at Meeting Held in Louisa Monday and Tuesday.

The Ashland District Missionary Institute, M. E. Church South, was held at Louisa last Monday and Tuesday.

The attendance was remarkably good. Out of the total of 22 pastors in the district, 20 were present. A number of laymen were here. The sessions of the institute were largely attended by the members of the local congregation and these all express themselves as having thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

The meetings were presided over by the Presiding Elder, Rev. U. V. W. Darlington, in his easy and able manner. Ministers and laymen who attended from outside of the district were Rev. C. A. Tague, of Flemingsburg, Ky., Rev. C. N. Coffman, of Clendenin, W. Va., Rev. W. L. Reid and D. W. Smith, of Parkersburg, W. Va., Mrs. S. H. Bowman, of Huntington, was present on Tuesday.

The program as published last week was carried out almost to the letter and a high degree of interest was sustained throughout. The discussions were not dry and the speakers went right to the point and did not grow tedious.

We can not undertake to give a report of each speaker's address, although we believe it is merited in almost every case. The visiting brethren mentioned above were all especially interesting, and added much to the success of the institute. Mrs. Bowman's address was particularly good. Rev. Tague, who was a missionary in Japan for twelve years, occupied a prominent place on the program and fully measured up to the subjects assigned him. Rev. Coffman and layman D. W. Smith, members of the Conference Board of Missions, made addresses that were heartily received by the audience.

All the preachers and laymen were entertained during their stay by the local church members.

KENTUCKY MOUNTAINS ARE CHANGING FAST.

The region of when John Fox, Jr., of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" fame, and other novelists wrote, is changing and changing fast. In the years which have elapsed since these literary light discovered the Kentucky mountains and their inhabitants, the mountaineer of fiction has become to many a stereotyped quantity.

Commerce and industrial development have changed the mountaineer and the mountain.

With the development of the great natural resources of coal, timber and minerals there has not only come an influx of outsiders who have changed the complexion of things, but the characteristics of the typical mountaineers themselves are undergoing a change, and it is a change for the better. The mountain end of the State of Kentucky is going to be the wealthiest end. It is going to be more—it is going to be an intelligent, God-fearing section of the State.

Way up in the very heart of the Cumberland mountains there are now working the representatives of the Fourth Estate and their weeklies and semi-weeklies are urging their readers in no uncertain sounds to stand firm on all moral issues, and not to allow in their midst anything which would degrade and demoralize their hospitable homes.

In fact, even now the mountain counties are regulating affairs more strictly than the cities of Kentucky, and neither pull nor money protects the wilful evil doer from the consequences of his acts.

A new era has begun for the people of the mountains, an era of which no imaginative novelist every dreamed, an era which promises a square deal for the mountaineers and their much misunderstood good qualities.—Beaumont (Texas) Journal.

W. J. FELL, PROMINENT TIMBER MAN, IS DEAD.

W. J. Fell, known throughout Eastern Kentucky for his extensive timber and oil operations, died at his home in Salt Lick after a long illness of Bright's disease. He was 70 years old at the time of his death and he came to Kentucky twenty years ago as the representative of the Standard Oil Co. He was considered to be a very wealthy man and did much for his home town and community.—Licking Valley Courier.

Mr. Fell came to Louisa many years ago, long before oil operations had attained any prominence in this section, and soon became known as a big buyer of staves. In this business he became widely known.

C. & O. OFFICIALS ON TOUR OF INSPECTION.

The president and directors' special of the C. & O. went up Big Sandy Saturday night, returning Sunday morning, going through to Chicago. This train was occupied by President Geo. W. Stephens of the C. & O., chairman of the board of directors and several other officials of that line. They are making the trip from New York to Chicago, going over the larger branches and will also go over the Hocking Valley railroad.

TANKS ERECTED AND WELLS ARE NOW BEING PUMPED.

Temporary tanks have been erected on the oil lease of the Maple Oil Co., on the head waters of Cow creek, and several of the wells will be given a thorough trying out in order to test their capacity. The tanks are of 250 barrels each. The pumping plant from the old Doe Creek field has been removed to the new field and has been rigged up. The pumping began Wednesday, and every indication so far bears out the reports on these wells at the time they were brought in.—Estill Tribune.

Miss Addie Crites Married at Huntington

Oldest Daughter of Rev. J. W. Crites is the Bride at a Surprise Wedding.

Shortly after she had read a paper on "Geographical Africa," at a meeting of the Young People's Missionary Society of Emmanuel M. E. Church, at the home of Miss Lucy Burris, Eleventh avenue, Tuesday night, Miss Addie Crites, the pretty 20-year-old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Crites, vanished.

Later in the evening her mother received a telephone message that she had been married to John Davis, of West Huntington, at the home of Rev. A. H. Reese, First U. B. Church.

During the missionary meeting Mr. Davis, like a modern Lochinvar, arrived at the house in an automobile in which he carried away his love. They went directly to the home of the United Brethren Church, where the ceremony took place witnessed by a few friends. Rev. Crites is pastor of Emmanuel Church. His daughter had led the missionary society's business session, it being during the social hour that she eloped. They were later forgiven by their parents.—Herald-Dispatch.

HATCHER-LANCASTER NUPTIALS.

Versailles, Ky.—One of the greatest surprises that has occurred in this vicinity for some time was Sunday, Nov. 1, when Mr. S. J. ("Jack") Lancaster returned with a bride, Mr. Lancaster left his home, which is near Versailles pike, on Oct. 13, ostensibly to attend the fall races at Lexington, so he informed his home folks. Instead of attending races on Wednesday Oct. 14, he met Q. & C. train at 10:30 a. m. on which his bride to be was aboard and who was none other but Miss Drusie Christina Hatcher, of Cliff, Ky. Miss Hatcher was returning from a four months' visit to a sister in Cincinnati, and she also told her folks that she was taking this route home to be able to attend races.

So after meeting Miss Hatcher and Mr. Lancaster decided they would get married, and repaired at once to Union depot where they departed at 11:40 a. m. for Ashland, Ky. On their arrival at Ashland they boarded a car for Catlettsburg and secured license and went to the home of Rev. C. A. Slaughter, pastor of the M. E. Church South of that place, and were united in marriage at 5:30.

After this happy event took place the bride called her home over phone and told them she was on her way home accompanied by a friend and to prepare dinner Thursday for two. On Thursday morning at 7 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster climbed aboard Ohio & Big Sandy train No. 38 for Cliff and on arrival were met by the bride's parents and friends. When she introduced her husband as her friend. After a sumptuous dinner the bride informed her family and friends that they were married which was the great surprise that had taken place in Floyd county for some time, and owing to the prominence of the bride's family made it doubly so.

Mrs. Lancaster is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hatcher, of Cliff, Floyd county, Ky., who are members of one of the best families of Virginia and Kentucky. Her father is an uncle of Mr. James Hatcher, of Pikeville, known as the "timber king" of

PRESIDENT WILSON ISSUES PROCLAMATION.

President Wilson issued a proclamation designating Thursday, November 26, as Thanksgiving day. The President's proclamation, which refers to the fact that the United States is at peace, while the rest of the world is at war, follows:

"By the President of the United States of America:

"A Proclamation.

"It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. The year that is now drawing to a close since we last observed our day of national thanksgiving has been while a year of discipline because of the mighty forces of war and of change which have disturbed the world, also a year of special blessing for us.

"It has been vouchsafed to us to remain at peace, with honor, and in some part to succor the suffering and supply the needs of those who are in want.

"GETS-IT," 2 Drops, Corn Vanishes!

The Only Sure End of All Corns.

Desperate, are you, over trying to get rid of corns? Quit using old formulas under new names, bandages, winding-tapes and cotton rings that make a fat little package out of your

This is the Grip of the Happy Cornless Foot.

Quit punishing your feet by using tanned and salves and ointments. To use knives, files, scissors and razors, slicing and hacking at a corn, only make it grow faster and bigger. It also brings danger of bleeding and blood poison. The new way, the new principle never known before in corn-treatment, is "GETS-IT." It's a liquid—2 drops on a corn does the work. It kills the corn, and the corn shrivels and falls out. You apply it in two seconds. Nothing to stick, nothing to hurt, and it never fails. Try "GETS-IT" tonight on corns, calluses, warts or bunions.

"GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

"GETS-IT" is sold in Louisa by LOUISA DRUG COMPANY and J. H. REYNOLDS.

We have been privileged by our own peace and self-control in some degree to steady the counsels and shape the hopes and purposes of a day of fear and distress. Our people have looked upon their own life as a nation with a deeper comprehension, a fuller realization of their responsibilities as well as of their blessings, and a keener sense of the moral and practical significance of what their part among the nations of the world may come to be.

The hurtful effects of foreign war in their own industrial and commercial affairs have made them feel the more fully and see the more clearly their mutual interdependence upon one another and has stirred them to a helpful co-operation such as they have seldom practiced before. They have been quickened by a great moral stimulation. Their unmistakable ardor for peace, their earnest pity and disinterested sympathy for those who are suffering, their readiness to help and to think of the needs of others have revealed them to themselves as well as to the world.

"Our crops will feed all who need food, the self-possession of our people amidst the most serious anxieties and difficulties and the steadiness and resourcefulness of our business men will serve other nations as well as our own."

"The business of the country has been supplied with new instrumentalities and the commerce of the world, with new channels of trade and intercourse. The Panama canal has been opened to the commerce of the nations. The two continents of America have been bound in closer ties of friendship. New instrumentalities of international trade have been created which will be also new instrumentalities of acquaintance, intercourse and mutual service. Never before have the people of the United States been so situated for their own advantage or the advantage of their neighbors or so equipped to serve themselves and mankind."

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease from their wonted occupations and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks to Almighty God.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the City of Washington, this twenty-eighth day of October, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and thirty-ninth.

Acting Secretary of State.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

WEST VIRGINIA ITEMS OF NEWS.

West Virginia Coal Exhibit.
Charleston, W. Va.—The coal mining industry of West Virginia will be well represented at the Panama Exposition in San Francisco next year, and arrangements to make the exhibit as attractive as possible are now under way in the smokeless fields. Several thousand feet of moving picture films have recently been made in the Pocahontas fields, which will represent one of the greatest subjects of the kind ever produced. The mining operations will be shown in varied and interesting forms, as well as demonstrations of life-saving crews, pictures of out-cropping seams of coal, panoramic views, etc., the whole reproducing life motion pictures of the production of coal in this great field.

Then the Norfolk & Western railroad officials have arranged to picture the shipment of coal over their lines from the mines to the seaboard, the loading of the coal in sea-going vessels at Lambert's Point, and the vessels laden with West Virginia coal putting out to sea. It is the intention also to have a film of vessels laden with West Virginia coal entering and passing through portions of the Panama Canal. At the Exposition these pictures will be shown each day in connection with the State's coal exhibit.

The West Virginia operators made a splendid showing at the Jamestown Exposition, and while the exact nature of the general exhibit at San Francisco has not been fully decided upon, it will be a good one, and in charge of some one well posted on the coal and coke situation in this State.

It is expected that this exhibit at the Exposition will have the effect of advertising the coal industry of West Virginia on the Pacific coast, and establish a permanent business through the Panama Canal with that section.

Improved Highways With Prisoners.

Success in convict road work is reported from West Virginia. This road work has been developed as the result of legislation passed at the last session of the Legislature. A recent report of the State Highway Commission states that to date three convict road camps have been established, the men being under the honor system, and living in tents. Two of the camps are located on a stream and the men each evening go bathing and enjoy all the liberties of camp life. Three Italians have attempted escape, but the Americans and negroes are proving themselves worthy of trust.

At St. Mary's camp, in solid and loose rock, the men have averaged 4.5 cubic yards per day. At the Inwood camp the average was 4.33 cubic yards, which included the erection of one concrete culvert. A crew of citizen labor was also working at St. Mary's camp on the same work and an interesting comparison of costs was made. The cost of moving material by citizens was 82 cents per cubic yard against 30 cents with the prisoners.

These developments indicate that through road work West Virginia will solve a great extent solve her prison problem, as well as any State wherein operation is secured between the highway and the prison departments.

West Virginia's Road School.

The second annual road school of West Virginia will be held under the joint auspices of the university and the State Road Bureau December 1-11. The law requires all county engineers to attend. The course is free to any citizen who wishes to avail himself of the instruction. All phases of road and bridge construction and repairs will be taken up and discussed by experts in each special line. A number of machine companies will have exhibits on the ground. A complete set of models of all kinds of road machines will be in the lecture room. Tests of materials will be made to demonstrate certain truths. Last season 148 were enrolled.

The Result in Logan County.

The 1914 election in Logan county passed off quietly and satisfactorily despite the efforts of some irresponsible workers to stir up trouble and the bitter fight that the Republicans made on certain candidates on the Democratic ticket. Upon the face of the unofficial returns all of the Democratic candidates were elected and all but one, upon whom the full force of the Republican campaign was directed, lost by a personal reason of certain Republican leaders, received substantial majorities. Logan Democrat.

Negroes Fight Over Woman.

John Creasey, a negro, aged about 40 years, was shot and instantly killed by another negro in a row alleged to have been over a woman, at Aracoma on Sunday last. Creasey's assailant, escaped immediately after the shooting and so far has eluded capture. Creasey came here from Huntington a short time ago. He was shot three times in the abdomen. Logan Democrat.

CHILDREN HATE OIL, CALOMEL AND PILLS

"California Syrup of Figs" best for tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Look back to your childhood days. Remember the "doses" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little insides are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicate "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach; and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with a contempt.

PICKLE BEANS.

LAXATIVE FOR OLD PEOPLE--"CASCARETS"

Salts, calomel, pills, act on bowels like pepper acts in nostrils.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to eat weak eyes, with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally wish the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets, and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

H. C. SULLIVAN FOR COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY.
We are authorized to announce H. C. SULLIVAN, of Lawrence county, as a candidate for the nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney for the 32nd Judicial district, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

G. W. CASTLE FOR COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY.
G. W. Castle, of Lawrence county, announces his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney for the 32nd Judicial District, primary election in August 1915, earnestly requesting the support of all Democrats of the district.

We are authorized to announce JOHN M. WAUGH as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney of the 32nd Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party in the primary of August, 1915.

We are authorized to announce W. D. O'NEAL, JR., as a candidate for the nomination for Circuit Judge of the 32nd Judicial district, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

We are authorized to announce JUDGE M. M. REDWINE as a candidate for Circuit Judge of the district composed of Lawrence, Elliott, Carter and Morgan counties, subject to the action of the Democrats in the primary election the first Saturday in August, 1915.

It is the first time that the Democrats ever raised the tariff and retained control of the House at the next election.

Representative John J. Fitzgerald, of New York, the oldest Democratic member in the House, won by a reduced plurality.

Secretary Bryan issued a statement declaring that the election results could not be construed as otherwise than as an endorsement of the President and his policies.

A herd of eighteen cattle was ordered destroyed in Bullitt county because of the foot and mouth disease. Bourbon Stockyards closed to all traffic pending a thorough disinfection.

Democrats will have 233 members in the next House; Republicans, 193; Progressives, 7; Independents, 1; Socialists, 1, according to returns compiled by South Trimble, clerk of the House.

Two naval victories of great importance were scored by England Tuesday when the cruisers Emden and Koenigsberg were removed from action. The Emden, having sunk twenty-two British vessels, was vanquished by the Australian cruiser Sydney and then beached. The Koenigsberg has been bottled up in an East African river. More recruits were called for by England when enlistment blanks were sent to every man on the voting list.

It is almost the invariable rule that two years after a presidential election in which Congress goes with the President the House of Representatives is carried decisively by the opposition.

That it is not so carried this year is a signal victory for the President and his party.

And that such a victory could be won this year when so many think that influence the unthinking voter against the party in power handicapped the Administration, is a remarkable evidence of the strength of the President, who was elected as a hope and who is now indorsed as that hope more than made good.

The Russian ambassador to Italy, in a statement regarding the Turkish attacks in the Black Sea, said that the action of Constantinople can only be defined as "Turkish." He declared that the Turks had committed a fearful error and that it would mark the end of Turkey as a European State.

The Serbian minister declared that the Turkish intervention would help to a solution of long pending questions, such as that of the Dardanelles. Turkey threatens to execute three prisoners for every one of its subjects that may be killed in the bombardment of any of its ports, and that a "Holy War" will be declared. This means the butchery of every Christian man and old women within reach of Turkish troops and the carrying of the young women into a slavery worse than death. The civilized world will welcome the day which "marks the end of Turkey as a European State. For centuries it has been a plague spot on the earth, a blot on the globe, and its complete finish as a political power would be hailed with joy by clean-minded people. For a century Turkey has been called "The Sick Man of Europe." His early demise seems sure, and it would give great satisfaction to an enlightened world.

The result this year. In other words, when fairly considered, a comparison of that election and this does not prove that this year's result is a Republican victory. Previous to two years ago the Republicans had a good majority in every Congress since the one elected in 1892. Then to come along this year in the face of all the adverse conditions and elect a Congress, with a plurality of 40, is certainly a great victory. It is true that Ohio returned to her normal Republican position. New York also went back to where she stood for so many years. But Tennessee came back to the Democrats and some of the western and northwestern states which have not been Democratic have elected Democrats this fall.

The following from the Kentucky political column in the Cincinnati Enquirer:

Senator Johnson N. Camden, who has been numerously importuned by letter and otherwise to get into the gubernatorial race, this week informed the writer that he at present has no inclination to seek further political honors, and that he likely would not be a candidate for Governor.

"The truth of the matter is," said he, "that, while I had an ambition to occupy a seat in the United States Senate, as my father had done, my entry into politics grew out of a desire to aid my friend, John C. C. Mayo, who had a strong ambition to go to the Senate, and I also thought that my friend, Rufus Vansant, might want to be Governor. So I took an interest. By a trend of events, not of my shaping, I became a member of the United States Senate, and my much-appreciated appointment as such by Governor McCreary has now been ratified by the people of the state. I now feel that I have been amply honored, and that some other Democrat should be chosen Governor." Senator Camden, however, will make a thorough analysis of the letters and verbal requests he has received before he determines upon his final announcement in the matter.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The Democrats among the Kentucky members of the Congress which begins March 4 next will immediately take a most prominent place in the administration of the affairs of the nation, due to the remarkable showing made by them in the recent elections. Leading men in the present administration are commencing on the fact that Kentucky, although generally listed with the "solid South" States, was one of the States in which it was recognized that a real fight was possible, due to the putting forward of the tariff issue by the Republicans and the Moores.

Accepting the gage of battle, and making the campaign on the administration of Woodrow Wilson, Senators James and Camden and Governor Beckham went into the fight as defenders of the Wilson administration all the way through. They have triumphed. Now, it is being pointed out, Kentucky was one of the few States, Indiana being one of the others, in which the Democracy was so signally successful in the face of a real contest. New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Kansas and other States where the Democratic candidates had to meet real opposition, went Republican. Kentucky and Indiana went Democratic overwhelmingly.

Orders are Beginning to Pour In.

Exporting Coal.
Orders for coal for South American countries are steadily increasing. A Philadelphia firm has just received a commission for 75,000 tons. This replaces business formerly held by England. There is also a very heavy movement of coal to Mediterranean ports as well as to Spain. The recent dumpings of the Norfolk & Western at its Norfolk pier of coal for export were at the rate of several hundred thousand tons per month over last year.

Orders for Canned Meats.
An order for 15,000,000 pounds of canned meats, valued at $1,500,000, to go to Europe, has been received by an Oklahoma City packing company. Additional orders for dry salt pork amount to more than the supply in sight.

Underwear Needed.
The Lackawanna mills, of Pennsylvania, have received an order for 250,000 suits of underwear from the British Government. All the textile mills in this section are running to their fullest capacity.

Hob-Nailed Boots for France.
New England manufacturers of shoes have already booked orders for 2,200,000 pairs for export to the European belligerents. France desires hob-nailed boots for her soldiers. The W. H. McElwain Co., which received an order for 200,000 pairs for France, has had the order increased to 500,000 pairs. The Endicott-Johnson Co. is making 500,000 pairs for Greece.

There is a corresponding boom in leather. One large company, with an annual turn over of $12,000,000, is running its factories day and night at 125 per cent capacity. Before the war it was running 40 per cent.

Most of the leather is for England. Its demand for leather has put up the price four to six cents a foot.

Horses for the Armies.
Stock dealers say that representatives of the warring European nations are in Tennessee buying up mules and horses for use by the belligerents. It is said that 10,000 of these animals will be sent to Europe in the near future, many being sent to Memphis and other to New Orleans for shipment. England and France are the heaviest shippers. One buyer has already shipped to the English army more than 50 car loads of horses.

Eight hundred horses were inspected by French representatives at Springfield, Mo. 20,000 additional head of horses are to be purchased in Missouri and Southern Illinois. A uniform price of $270 is being paid for each horse. It is stated that the German Government is offering $500 to $800 a head for horses delivered in Germany.

HATCHER-LANCASTER NUPTIALS.

Big Sandy river and who ranks in wealth next to the late Col. J. C. C. Mayo, who was a personal friend of the bride's father. Her father is also an uncle of F. Tom Hatcher, the defeated Democrat in the Tenth Congressional district. On her mother's side of the house the bride can trace her ancestry back to 1623, her ancestors, the Herefords, having emigrated to America from Herefordshire, England, at that time. Mrs. Lancaster's grandfather, Dr. James H. Hereford, always boasted of his royal blood and was a cousin of King Henry III. Dr. Hereford was born in Alexandria, Fairfax county, Va., and came to Louisa, Ky., at an early day. He served as surgeon in 39th Ky. regiment. He was known as the greatest physician throughout Kentucky and Tennessee at that time. He being of a proud nature and possessing more than ordinary intellect, made him a man of much renown.

Mr. Lancaster can also boast of his royal blood, his ancestry dating back to Don Carlos days under British rule. His great grandfather was from Lancashire, England, and crossed the waters at an early day to America and settled at Orange C. H., Orange county, Va. His grandfather, who belonged to one of the first families of Virginia, came to Kentucky with his family and almost an army of slaves or servants before the war and settled in Woodford county.

Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster are spending their honeymoon with the growing mother, and a more delightful place the writer thinks could not be found this side of Heaven, as Heaven and earth seem to almost meet right here for the "old Kentucky Home" is right on the bank where the sweet Kentucky flows and with its placid waters flowing through the grand palisades and the magnificent scenery overlooking dale and dell makes it a poet's dream and two lovers' retreat.

Mr. Lancaster met his bride for the first time during the races at Lexington in October 1913, and it was a case of love at first sight, for Miss Hatcher completely captivated the heart of her future husband with her gentleness of manner and winning ways, and with a whirlwind correspondence of one year he won one of Big Sandy's fairest and purest daughters, which terminated in this romantic marriage as previously stated.

Mr. Lancaster is a prominent Woodford county farmer and tobacco grower and is known far and near for his honesty and exemplary character, and is well worthy of the young lady he has chosen for a partner through life, and we feel sure with their ambitious ways and high aspirations that they will make good wherever they locate, and will have a long, happy and prosperous useful life and we think their hearts are so blended that it will be as a song of gladness and end as a Perfect Day. A KENTUCKIAN.

Prevention and Treatment of Blackleg Disease

The Few Cases in Lawrence County are Being Looked After.

As reported in the NEWS last week, there are several cases of black leg amongst the young cattle in two or three localities of Lawrence county. Vaccination is being resorted to for preventing and it is hoped the trouble will soon be eradicated.

Mr. E. S. Kogley, the County Agricultural Agent, has a syringe especially adapted to vaccinating cattle. Also, he is in position to furnish the vaccine matter sooner than it may be had otherwise. Make application direct to him at Louisa for the virus.

It is of paramount importance that all carcasses of animals that have died from black leg should be properly destroyed either by deep burial or preferably by burning.

If the animal dies in the pasture it should be burned on the spot, and the ground in the immediate neighborhood thoroughly disinfected with chloride of lime or an abundance of ordinary unstacked lime.

If, however, it becomes necessary to remove the carcass to some other point it should be remembered that the ground over which it is moved, and everything with which it comes in contact may become infected, and requires thorough disinfection.

DEMOCRATS APPRECIATE WORK OF CAMPAIGN CHAIRMAN RHEA

HON. THOMAS S. RHEA

In the placing of credit for the splendid Democratic victory in Kentucky on Tuesday, the major portion is being handed to Thomas S. Rhea, of Logan county, State Treasurer who led the fight for Beckham and Camden as Chairman of the Democratic State Campaign Committee. It was an old time Democratic victory, probably the greatest in Kentucky in thirty years, the majority going above anything given the party in that long time, and Mr. Rhea was the recipient of hundreds of telegrams complimenting him on his leadership and campaign management for the party.

It is conceded that the overwhelming result was largely due to organization, in getting the people aroused and to the polls to vote. Chairman Rhea has long been known down in the Third Congressional district as a campaigner, but this was his first experience covering so much territory. He brought the methods of organization which made him so successful in county and district politics into the state fight. He devoted every energy to the work, selecting his own campaign committee and all of his assistants and personally directing every move that was made. Not content with running one special train through Kentucky bearing a national character, Mr. Bryan, as the star speaker, he conducted another on a more extensive scale, which carried only Kentuckians as speakers and campaigners. This proved more successful than the first and did much to arouse the voters to the necessity for turning out on the day of election. County and precinct campaign committees were everywhere named early in the contest, and were kept in touch with the State organization and speakers' bureau to the end that every section of Kentucky had its Democratic speakers urging upon the people the necessity for going to the polls and voting to uphold President Wilson and his peace policies for the American people.

The one feature of Chairman Rhea's campaign which particularly stands out in the political battle just won was in his handling of the political situation in the city of Louisville and the Fifth Congressional district. Confronted when he undertook to make the party campaign with the fact that the head of the ticket had lost Louisville in the primary last August, and coming out of that city in the election of Tuesday with over twelve thousand majority for that nominee, Democratic hats are off to their chairman. Further, he had to deal with the fact that Louisville had had the habit for several years past of only weakly supporting Democratic candidates and very often giving a majority against them at the polls. Out of all of this he brought a result that far surpassed the expectations of those who were associated with him in the fight, the largest Democratic majority the Fifth district has given in over a quarter of a century.

The same clever methods that brought this about in Louisville served as well in pretty nearly every section of the state in the election of Tuesday. Every Congressional district worked harmoniously with the State Chairman, and in every one of them the vote was nearly such as it would have been with local races on in the counties.

That the victory just achieved paves the way for Democratic success in the State election of next year is the opinion of the party leaders and every one conversant with political affairs in Kentucky. It demonstrates, they say, that the party is harmonious and united.

FIRST AID TO MINERS.

Government Bureau' Makes Recommendations To Assist in Rescue Work in Coal Fields.

In line with its campaign to reduce the number of deaths in the mines of the United States, the Federal Bureau of Mines some time ago appointed a committee of eminent physicians and surgeons to develop an efficient method of resuscitation to be administered by miners or other persons to a fellow-workman overcome by electric shock or by gases in places which cannot be reached by a physician in time to save life.

As a result of this committee's report just made, the Bureau of Mines, through Director Joseph A. Holmes, recommends the following procedure in rendering first aid to those in need of artificial respiration.

The recommendations apply not only to men who are overcome by electric shock or gasses in mines, but also to persons suffering from the effects of illuminating gas poisoning, or from electric shock elsewhere. The recommendations are therefore of importance to many thousands of workmen. In case of gas poisoning remove the victim at once from the gaseous atmosphere. Carry him quickly to the fresh air and immediately give manual artificial respiration. Do not stop to loosen the clothing, every moment of delay is serious.

In case of electric shock, break electric current instantly. Free the patient from the current with a single quick motion, using any dry conductor, such as clothing, rope, or board, to move patient or wire. Beware of using metal or moist material. Meantime have every effort made to shut off current. Attend instantly to the victim's breathing. If the victim is not breathing he should be given artificial respiration at once.

If patient is breathing slowly and regularly, do not give artificial respiration, but let nature restore breathing unaided.

In gas cases, give oxygen. If the patient has been a victim of gas give him pure oxygen, with manual artificial respiration.

The oxygen may be given through a breathing bag from a cylinder having a reducing valve with connecting tubes and face mask, and with an inspiratory and expiratory valve, of which the latter communicates directly with the atmosphere.

No mechanical artificial resuscitating device should be used unless one operated by hand that has no suction effect on the lungs.

Use the Schafer or iron pressure method of artificial respiration. Begin at once. A moment's delay is serious.

Continue the artificial respiration. If necessary, continue two hours or longer without interruption until natural breathing stops after being restored, use artificial respiration again.

Do not give the patient any liquid until he is fully conscious.

Give him fresh air but keep his body warm.

Send for the nearest doctor as soon as the accident is discovered.

DR. COLLIER INTERVIEWED.

(Licking Valley Courier)
Dr. S. R. Collier and Mrs. Collier have returned from Dry Ridge Springs, where Doctor has been taking a treatment for rheumatism. His health is much better now than it has been for some time and the Courier reporter interviewed him in regard to the business outlook.

"Doctor, what is the general outlook for business in the oil and other lines?"

"It's encouraging. I believe that after the election that the business of the country will go forward in a way that we have not experienced for years. There has evidently been an attempt on the part of some beneficiaries of the high tariff to cause a depression in business for political effect; but this will cease after the election and the business of the country in all branches and lines will be freed from this and I look for an era of great prosperity. It will be two years until another Congressional election and the Wilson administration measures will have had time to have been tried out by that time, and I feel confident that they will have a very favorable effect on business, and the wisdom of the Democratic party will have been manifest. Legitimate capital will see that the prosperity of the common people is the best safeguard it can have."

"What is the outlook in your special line, the oil business?"

"Locally, the oil business is hampered by the litigation started by the Sewell heirs, and we are handicapped by that until the decision of the court has been had. Freed from the uncertainty by this suit, the development will proceed vigorously. It is only a question of a short time now until we will know what the result of that suit will be. Of course if the Sewells win, the farmers of Morgan county lose out entirely, as there will be no royalties or rentals for them. But if we win in the suit, which I think we will, work will go on as before and the country will be developed as fast as possible."

"Will the general business conditions of the country affect your business, and to what extent?"

"The general condition of business conditions of the country affect our business as it does all other business. But I anticipate a general improvement in the condition of all lines of business. The European war gave all lines of business in the United States a general shake-up, and coming at the time when the new measures of the Wilson administration were just beginning to be operative it caused much speculation as to results, and there was a general lull owing to the fear of some to begin new ventures, but in the near future there can be but one result to us from the overseas war. The products of all our factories will be in greater demand than ever before; there will be an increased demand for labor caused by the question of title raised here to supply the things that the warring countries must have, and this can't help but benefit all lines of industries."

"The temporary decrease of the ocean shipping caused by the war that was given as the excuse for the decrease in the price of crude oil, but the traffic of trans-oceanic shipping has been resumed and with the growth of the new American Merchant Marine it seems to me that there can be no result than an increased demand for crude oil. The war has also given us a practically new market that had been largely supplied by the warring countries—the South American countries, and everything seems to me to indicate that the United States is just entering upon the greatest era of prosperity that it has ever known. And only such time as we must take to adjust ourselves to these conditions is needed to bring it about."

"Do you contemplate any new developments in this section?"
"Yes. I have no fears as to the general business outlook. As soon as we can get the vexatious litigation settled that has held us up for the past year we contemplate extensive development of the territory. Most of the people associated with me are of my opinion and we will enter actively into the development as soon as the suits are settled in our favor."

RYE AND BARLEY WHEN FROZEN ARE DANGEROUS.

When Eaten by Sheep and Hogs Fermentation Ensues, Killing Them.

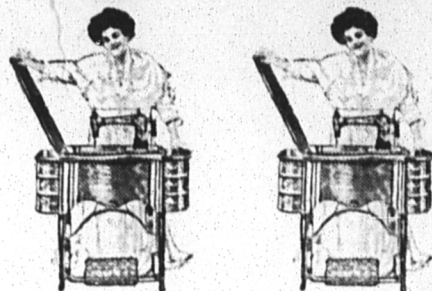

During the late fall months it is not uncommon for the experiment station to receive reports from different sections of the state requesting information and assistance in combating sudden losses in sheep and hogs. On visiting these farms it has been found that these fatalities in some instances could be traced to frozen rye or barley.

In order to avoid further losses of this nature this year all swine and sheep owners should take special precautions to keep these animals off of rye and barley fields immediately after a severe frost or freeze. Frozen rye and barley sometimes prove deleterious and animals should be allowed only a very limited amount of this feed while it is in a frozen condition. Severe frosts frequently check the growth of these two winter forage plants and leave them in a wilted condition. In this stage they undergo fermentation and may prove injurious to animals. The losses in cattle and horses are not as often reported. This no doubt being due to the fact that they are more resistant and are not so frequently pastured on this forage. The losses are sudden, depending on climatic conditions, and simulate acute poisoning. The trouble generally appears subsequent to a severe freeze, following rains or heavy dews and is not continuous throughout the winter season. Animals sometimes suffer from acute symptoms of meningitis; others evidence symptoms of severe diarrhoea for several days, which exhausts the strength of the animals and renders them very susceptible to catarrh of the respiratory tract, and frequently to pneumonia. Young animals do not seem to resist the deleterious effects of frozen feed as well as older animals. Milk cows are quite resistant, and if not overfed recover immediately when the cause is removed.

PREVENTION.—Keep animals out of rye and barley fields for several days after they have been severely frosted or frozen. ROBERT GRAHAM, Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky.

The Mothers in Sickness.

We think the most pathetic passage in the bible is the description of the lad who went out to the harvest field of Shunem and got sunstruck—throwing out, "Oh, my head, my head!" and they said, "Carry him to his mother." And then the record is "He sat on her knees, till noon and then died." It is an awful thing to be ill away from home in a strange hotel, once in a while men coming to look at you hold their hands over their mouth for fear that they will catch the contagion. How roughly they turn you in bed! How loudly they talk! How you long for the ministrations of home! We know one such who went away from one of the brightest of homes for several weeks' business absence at the West. A telegram came at midnight that he was on his death bed, far away from home. By express train the wife and daughter went westward, but they were too late. He feared not to die, but he was in agony to live until his family got there. He tried to bribe the doctor to make him have a little while longer. He said, "I am willing to die but not alone." But the pulse fluttered, the eyes closed and the heart stopped. The express train met in the midnight—wife and daughters going westward—lifeless remains of husband and father coming eastward. Oh, it was a sad, pitiful, overwhelming spectacle. When we are sick, we want to be sick at home. When the time comes for us to die, we want to die at home. The room may be humble, and the faces that look into ours may be very plain, but who cares for that? Loving hands to bathe the temple. Loving voices to speak good cheer. Loving lips to read the comforting promises of Jesus.

MUTUAL KINDNESS.

Kindness, as well as politeness, may be rightfully named as the lubricators of society. As impoliteness, either in old or young persons, male or female, is sometimes painful and always unpleasant; so we may say of unkindness, that it is a sore spot, a friction, a dreaded fault, to ever be avoided. Kindness allays irritation; soothes trouble, helps the needy, encourages the dull and discouraged, sweetens the home, unifies the church, or other organization has quieted down and reunited, by kind counsels and kind acts. Many an ugly faction has died a natural death by the kindly ministrations of kindness. Many a wretched and distracted home has been brought to conditions of peace and joy by the mellowing of influences of kind words and deeds. Hearts without number, burdened and aching from ill-treatment have been relieved and blessed by kindness. Other hearts poisoned by jealousy and selfishness, passion and pride have been sweetened and purified, by the cultivation of kindly feeling and thoughts. Kindness, to be thorough and effective must be reciprocal as well as receivable. Whoever would that all others should be kind to them, must themselves be kind to all others; on the principal that he that would have friends must show himself friendly.

Kindness may be misplaced sometimes; but that is the exception, and not the rule. They who cultivate and practice kindness feel a wonderful better than those who indulge in bitterness and ill temper.

Patents should remember that every distressing, blood-curdling story told to a young child, every superstitious fear instilled into his young life, the mental attitude they bear towards him, the whole treatment they accord him, are making phonographic records in his nature which will be reproduced with scientific exactness in his future life.

Do you treat your child with as much respect as you treat friends? Example is stronger than precept, and if you treat him with respect he will respect himself. Do you provide amusements for your children at home? If not they will seek them elsewhere. Provide them with good literature, but be careful not to place within their reach the life history of an outlaw. Help your children with their names and their studies; be kind yet firm, and though your home has been a rude log cabin the children will not stray from the place where love dwells.

Home's not merely four square walls. Though hung with pictures nicely gilded; Home is where affection calls, Filled with the shrines the heart has builded.

A true husband will receive his wife into the most comforting partnership. Woman is neither superior nor inferior to man. She is only different. A man may have a professional secret from his wife, but never a personal secret. It is well to confide to wives business matters. Woman has an instinct at times superior to man's reason.

Suffered Twenty-One Years--
Finally Found Relief

Having suffered for twenty-one years with a pain in my side, I finally have found relief in Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Injections of morphine were my only relief for short periods of time. I became so sick that I had to undergo a surgical operation in New Orleans, which benefited me for two years. When the same pain came back one day I was so sick that I gave up hopes of living. A friend advised me to try your Swamp-Root and I at once commenced using it. The first bottle did me so much good that I purchased two more bottles. I am now on my second bottle and am feeling like a new woman. I passed a gravel stone as large as a big red bean and several small ones. I have not had the least feeling of pain since taking your Swamp-Root and I feel it my duty to recommend this great medicine to all suffering humanity. Gratefully yours, MRS. JOSEPH CONSTANCE, Rapids Park, Echo, La.

ADULT ILLITERACY IN STATE OF KENTUCKY.

(By Supt. Barksdale Hamlett)

Adult illiteracy is the greatest single handicap under which Kentucky is staggering today. It keeps blind the individual; it hinders peace, efficiency, education; it retards the economic development of the State, and it goes far toward furnishing a debauched electorate.

IT BLINDS THE INDIVIDUAL.—Development and progress come to people and States largely through contact. The illiterate is cut off from this contact. He is limited in his life to the now and the here. His associates are as a rule those of his own class. From them he cannot learn; the blind cannot lead the blind. Hemmed in as to his intellectual life the illiterate goes to form a class of people, narrow, suspicious and nonprogressive.

IT HINDERS EDUCATION.—The upward movement of any people is in direct ratio to popular education. Illiteracy is an "old man of the sea" upon the back of education. Like betwixt illiteracy hinders education; blind to the advantages of education, the illiterate parent often is entirely indifferent and sometimes actually opposed to education. "I never had any learnin, and I have lived" is a common excuse among illiterate parents. The children of such people form the problem of the trustee officer. No greater thing can be done for the schools of this State, than to stamp out once for all this evil of adult illiteracy.

IT RETARDS ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT.—As a rule, the illiterate is poor. Of course there are exceptions to this rule, but such exceptions only emphasize the rule. A great effort is now being made to improve the agricultural conditions in this State. Adult illiteracy stands in the way. No farm journal, no bulletin, no message except by word of mouth can reach the unfortunate class. Adult illiteracy bars the way of agricultural progress, and to eliminate it will fertilize every hill of corn and every field of wheat in the State. Every dollar spent in this righteous cause is like the water that rises from the sea to fall again on the land, bringing beauty and abundance in its train.

IT DEBAUCHES THE ELECTORATE.—The very hope of our free institutions lies in the virtue and intelligence of the electorate. Ignorant and venal voters are a standing menace to free institutions. Ignorance has ever been the greatest foe to popular institutions. If Kentucky politics are ever to be improved, the tens of thousands of voters who cannot read the ballot must be taught to read.

EFFORTS TO ELIMINATE ILLITERACY.—An heroic effort is now being made to drive out of our great State the curse of illiteracy. Men and women who love humanity should help this cause along. It is a patriotic movement. It is altruism of a practical kind. It is good business; it is statesmanship. Let everyone who can lend a helping hand. Let critics keep silent while this battle with Kentucky's greatest foe is being fought and won.

COURT OF APPEALS.

In the case of Combs vs. Commonwealth, appealed from the Floyd Circuit Court, the Court of Appeals affirmed the lower court's decision.

LETCHER COUNTY AND WHITESBURG.

What is Happening in this Rich Coal Territory of Kentucky.

Whitesburg, Ky., Nov. 10.—Election passed off quietly in Letcher county, unusually quiet, one of the quietest elections held in many years, and a pretty good vote was polled in most every precinct in the county. Wilson and Langley carried Letcher by about 800 votes, while the Democrats carried pretty well their usual strength. Camden, for the short term Senate, fell a few votes under Beckham, Beckham receiving nearly 400 votes.

Unfortunately for our people, the road bond issue lost by a large vote, from three to four hundred, but it is said a special election is likely to be called early in the new year when the question will be voted on again. It is hoped that the bonds will carry then.

Stephen Cornett, a former Deputy Sheriff of the county, who was seriously hurt by a coal car coming down an incline in the Elkhorn Coal Co.'s plant at Kona above here last week, is now at the home of Sheriff C. H. Back here and is resting well. He is now said to be practically out of danger. Cornett is one of the best known young men of the Dry Fork section.

W. D. Sutton, of the Pine Mountain Manufacturing Co., has received a large logging contract on Big Cowan Creek a few miles from here from the Day Lumber & Coal Co., and has started work with a large force of men. It will require at least a year to complete the contract. The Day Lumber & Coal Co. have also started a mammoth development work on King's Creek and are building a six mile line of narrow gauge railroad onto the property. Several hundred men are at work already doing grade work and cutting timber. This is perhaps one of the biggest logging and timber contracts ever undertaken in Letcher county.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place Saturday evening in the parlors of the Central hotel here when Mr. W. M. Lemley, aged 18, of Fleming, was married to Miss Bertha Erick, aged 15, of Fleming. Elder John A. Craft officiating in the ceremony. The young couple had eloped from Fleming, and after the marriage took place they left immediately for their return to ask parental blessings. Both young people are popular in and around Fleming, the groom being a brother of Policeman J. C. Lemley. They will reside in the new city and will be at home to friends within a few days.

The Letcher Fiscal Court was called together by County Judge Henry T. Day for the purpose of discussing further the bridge question, and after the subject was thoroughly discussed it was decided to abandon the building of the bridge across the Kentucky River at Roxana, ten miles below here, although they decided to build the bridge across the river at Ulvah. A number of new bridges are already under construction in the county, while five or six were built last year. Thousands of dollars of the county's money is being expended in the work.

D. C. Anderson and L. C. Altemus, of Philadelphia, officials of the Mineral Development Co., owning large areas of fine coal and timber lands, with J. L. McCormick, of Big Stone Gap, have been in the county for several days, negotiating, it is said, for other properties. It is said, also, that the company proposes to lease some of their holdings in the county for immediate development.

U. S. Commissioner Samuel Collins the past week purchased a good slice of coal and timber lands lying on Little Fork below here in this county, paying about $6000 cash therefor. The section of Little Fork is immensely rich and will no doubt be the next section in the coal fields to be developed. The Swift Coal & Timber Co. recently bought large boundaries in that section. They plan developments, it is said.

W. M. Goss, of Bristol, Tenn., a well known civil engineer, returned here from Line Fork where he has been running out the vast holdings of the Swift Coal & Timber Co. there. Mr. Goss will be located here for a time.

Engineers were said to have started laying off a new town at Mouth of Colly, three miles above here, last week. The railroad company recently purchased all the property of the old Combs place and will build a town, it is said, besides yards. It is also highly probable that a five mile branch railroad will be built up Colly to open the rich Colly coal fields. This will doubtless be done the coming year.

Editor Emin Elam, of the Mountain Eagle, was called to Jackson on a business mission during the week.

Misses Alberta Holcomb, Ethel and Myrtle Webb and Miss Polly Fields were social visitors in Hazard this week, returning Tuesday.

The Whitesburg postoffice was moved this week from Webb avenue to the Dr. Fitzpatrick drug store property on Main street.

W. B. Webb was a Wednesday business visitor in Cornettsville.

J. E. Garnett, the hustling Erick man who sells sawmills and machinery, was calling on his trade here from Hazard.

Hons. D. D. Fields and L. Wilson Fields returned from a business trip to Lexington and other points in the Blue Grass region.

Mr. Lord, of the Auditing Department of the Louisville & Nashville, has been along the L. & N. checking up some of the boys.

Commonwealth's Attorney R. Monroe Fields, after spending a few days at home, returned to Pikeville to resume his duties in the Pike Circuit Court.

J. P. Dixon, former Letcherite of London, has been a guest of friends here and in the county for several days.

Josh Hogg, who has spent several months with Government engineering crew in Martin and Johnson counties, is now at home with his family.

Engineer John H. Blair, of Colly, came in from a business trip to Pikeville and other points on the Big Sandy river.

Work on the J. H. Frazier business block on Main street started a few days ago and is being rushed with all possible speed. The Main street grade and sidewalk work goes rapidly forward, also. Whitesburg is undergoing some splendid changes, adding much beauty to the old town. We look forward for a great future for the little mountain city.

W. G. Sellers, Hazard fruit commission man, representing Sistrunk, of Lexington, was here talking fruit.

Ed Williams and J. B. Hall, of Kona, were business visitors to the county yesterday, as were W. H. Potter, Mater wholesale man, and I. D. Hall, Kona carpenter.

Engineer S. E. Caudill has been here from Hazard, where he is employed by the L. & N. railroad company.

WANT BRAVERY RECOGNIZED. Salsersville, Ky., Nov. 10.—Friends of Clay Rudd, a young man of this place, have applied to the Carnegie Hero Commission in the hope that it will give some substantial recognition to an act of heroism on his part. This act consisted in recovering from a well, in which there were ten feet of water, the 4-year-old daughter of T. P. Howard, Rudd, who saw the child disappear in the well, ran to her aid and without considering possible consequences to himself, dived after her and succeeded in saving her life.

The Farmer's Institute which will be held here next week will discuss some matters of importance to women, and on this account the Nora Kennison Club will hold no meeting but will attend the Institute.

PIKE COUNTY NEWS

MORE FISH STOCK.

Under the supervision of Congressman Langley, the U. S. government is stocking the Sandy river with a variety of fish of different kinds. Mr. Langley arrived here last Saturday night with the last consignment, and many previous supplies have been turned into the river. On his way up the river Mr. Langley left several cans of the small fish at Louisa, Paintsville and Prestonsburg. Four cans of 250 fish each were turned in here, most of which were bass. Under the present game laws it may be possible to restock the river again so that in one or two years the waters of Sandy and tributaries will be teeming with fish to replenish the now exhausted supply.

OFFICIAL MAJORITIES.

As a result of the present jury investigation into charges of vote selling in Pike county, the recent election has been the cleanest in many years, and so far as can be learned there is no evidence of corruption upon either side.

The following is a list of the official count of votes in Pike county as taken from the report filed by the election commissioners in the office of the Pike County Court Clerk:

For the Senatorial long term: J. C. W. Beckham received in the county of Pike 2388 votes, Augustus E. Willson received 3246, Burton Vance, the Progressive candidate, 64, and H. J. Robertson, the Socialist candidate, 70. The Socialist vote will be seen to have represented a majority of 6 votes over the Progressives, and Letcher county is said to have given the Socialists a much larger vote.

For the Senatorial short term: J. N. Camden received 2286 votes, William Marshall Bullitt 3221 votes, Geo. Nichols, Progressive, 63, and Frank E. Seeds, Socialist, 25.

For Congress: E. T. Hatcher 2273, J. W. Langley 3269, H. M. Hoskins, Progressive, 75, and S. S. Morrison, Socialist, 65.

The vote in all precincts was very light.

A CORRECTION.

Owing to the fact that the author of this department was misinformed by persons attending the funeral of Mrs. Thomas Reynolds, aged 49, at Coal Run last week, some misstatements were printed without, however, any intention of misleading or giving offense to any of the relatives of the deceased, a well known and respected woman.

Rev. Wade Rowe, of the Methodist Church at Pikeville, preached the funeral sermon, instead of Rev. M. C. Reynolds, as formerly stated. The funeral offering was very beautiful, and the Pikeville Order of Rebecca, of which Mrs. Reynolds had for years been a member, was present and took charge of the interment ceremonies; many other Pikeville friends also attended, and a large gathering of friends were present to pay the last respects to a beloved friend, relative and mother.

She leaves a husband and many friends to mourn for her, and she was laid to rest beside her little daughter, who also sleeps in the Coal Run cemetery.

GERMAN PROVERB CHANGED.

The German people, whose language is full of apt proverbs of traditional fame, have decided to modernize one of their ancient sayings, and according to Dr. A. P. Keil, Dean of Pikeville College and Professor of Language, "Einde gut, alles gut" was translated from the English, meaning, "If it ends well, all is well." A recent surprising work of the German cruiser Emden, the terror of the seas in the present war, Dr. Keil says, the proverb has been made to read, "Emden good, alles good," which makes it original, and with a point.

HEATER NOW WORKING.

The new heating apparatus installed in the basement of the Pikeville jail to heat the jail, jailer's residence and court house, has been put to work first to supply heat for the court house before waiting for the completion of the other two buildings. The heat was turned on Monday at noon, and it quickly created summer temperature in the court room and all the offices. It is a great advantage over the old method of heating, and has proven satisfactory in every way.

CONNOLLY HOUSE REMODELED.

The old Connolly house, which was nearly destroyed by fire some months ago, is being rebuilt into a two-storyed frame residence by Mrs. John L. Hager. The Connolly House was, for many years one of the leading hotels of the Sandy Valley, but Mrs. Hager quit the hotel business quite a while ago, and before it was destroyed the building was converted into a flat and rented to several families. The rear wing was saved from the flames, and this has been moved forward to be built into a beautiful residence.

FARMERS' MEETING.

Many farmers attended the annual meeting of the Pike County Farmers' Institute held in the court room Tuesday evening and Wednesday, and all heard the lectures with great interest. Pike county is not particularly adapted to farming, but many prosperous farmers and many beautiful farms are to be found throughout the county. Orchards are more productive, and with a little care the very finest apples can be grown, as well as other fruits, such as the peach, pear, plum and grape. The lecturers gave much time to the horticultural branch, and left a strong hint that if the people of this county expect to do well as a community, they will have to do more farming, even if the conditions are not so near perfect as in other parts of the county.

GREAT MEETING CLOSED.

The series of evangelistic meetings which have just been held by the Christian Church at Pikeville were, from the viewpoint of actual results obtained, the greatest revival held in this city in recent years. The meetings were under the direction of evangelist Roud Shaw, of Henry county, and he was ably assisted by the pastor, Rev. G. J. Daniels and a good choir. During the three weeks revival 28 persons were converted, and 20 were added to the church. Of these, eight persons have been admitted into full membership and baptized last Tuesday, seven are yet to be baptized, and five were admitted by letter.

Unusual crowds attended the meetings throughout, and owing to the increasing numbers it was found necessary to move to the court room, as on several occasions many were turned away from the door unable to find standing room.

Evangelist Shaw left Wednesday morning for Greenup, where he will begin a new series of meetings at once, and his friends and co-workers at Pikeville are sure that his work here is permanent, and will in its turn produce more good.

ATTORNEYS' MEETING.

The Pike County Bar Association met at the court house last Monday to discuss what they considered necessary improvements and changes in the court room.

Owing to bad acousticon arrangement of the large court room, it is difficult to hear distinctly, and to overcome this defect it was suggested that the Judge's bench and jury box be moved from the southern to the eastern elevation of the room, and to put in a new floor, with circular arrangement of the benches. The attorneys will appear in a body before the Pised Court at its next session to ask that these changes be made, and it is reasonably certain that the court will view the suggestion for these improvements with favor. It is said this will greatly aid the courts in doing their work more speedily.

DR. CASEBOLT GETS JOB.

Dr. S. B. Casebolt, Pikeville practitioner, has been appointed as company surgeon for the Rockcastle Lumber Co., at Offutt, Martin county, Ky., at a considerably salary, and will move with his family next week to take charge of his new work at Offutt, which is on the Big Sandy branch just below Paintsville.

Dr. Casebolt is a graduate of the medical college at Louisville, and located with the hospital at Elkhorn City immediately after his graduation. He later came to Pikeville and built up a considerable practice and reputation as a hard-working, conscientious physician, and has of late been associated in business with Dr. J. W. Stephenson in the First National Bank building.

He will go to Offutt tomorrow, and his family will follow next week.

CUPID IN PIKE.

Cupid has been very busy in Pike county during the past week, and ten marriage permits have been issued, seven of which are to the following parties:

Albert Brancham, to Miss Marguerite Hamlin, both of Penny, Ky.

Bradley Cayins to Miss Coromy Stone, of Fish Trap.

George Newsum to Miss Debby Dameron, of Robinson Creek.

Charles Vanhoose to Miss Folsom Blankenship, of Whitehouse, Johnson county.

Judson Lewis to Miss Victory Prather, of Allen, Johnson county.

Everett Chapman to Miss Maggie Howard, of Ballard, Floyd county.

John Collins to Miss May Stillner, of Fish Trap.

Hatler Akers to Miss Hattie Little, of Dameron.

HEALTH CAMPAIGN CONTINUES.

During a several days investigation into health conditions in this county by Dr. M. W. Steele and assistants, representing the State Board of Health, several hundred people have been examined for hook worms, and according to a published statement issued by Dr. Steele, more than 50 per cent of those examined have been found to be infected with the disease. The condition is so prevalent that it is described as epidemic in this county; but, says the statement, the doctors are encouraging an intensive interest, and teachers are aiding in the collection of the specimens. All citizens, whatever may be their trade or profession, are expected to help in this movement for the betterment of humanity.

A three days' meeting began here Wednesday, and will close today, and all who have not been examined should promptly do so, as those infected are a dangerous menace to the community. Everyone should attend the lectures and hear the simple realities of this disease explained. It costs nothing to take either the examination or the treatment.
